

Dear Parents / Teachers:

Thank you for supporting the M is for Money™ book series. I hope you've enjoyed the books so far. They are all available for purchase in paperback, hardcover and ebook format at www.MisforMoney.ca.

M is for Money™ is a Kid's Guide to Financial Literacy™. The books offer you an opportunity to explain rudimentary facts about money to your children and students.

In Book 6, Counting Comes First, Tessa and Benji visit their local shopping mall with their dad and learn that it is important to plan your purchases.

Tessa and Benji make gift purchases for their mom and their cousin Sophie. They learn that collaborating in purchasing joint cards rather than individual ones saves them money. They count their money to ensure they have enough.

I hope this book and the others in the series give you and your children and students the chance to enjoy many conversations about money and money-related topics.

Tessa and Benji are off to buy gifts. Let's join them in their adventure.

-Teresa

a kid's guide to financial literacy™ books follow the financial adventures of twin siblings

&

. They

introduce children to the concept of money, its use and value, as well as its charitable capabilities.

Visit www.MisforMoney.ca
for fun facts and to order
Tessa and Benji play items!